Department of Botany Faculty along with students attended a seminar on 7.2.2018 at Andhra Loyola college , Vijayawada .

Report:

Students of III BZC Participated with much enthusiasm in the seminar. Students participated in sessions and interacted with speakers on dynamism of plants in this millennium.

Unlike lectures, seminar classes are meant to be interactive, with students delivering lectures rather than just listening to a Lecturer and taking notes. Because of this, seminar classes are great for engaging with complex ideas but less suitable for “how-to” or hands-on lessons.

Participating in a seminar has numerous benefits, including improving communication skills, gaining expert knowledge, networking with others and renewing motivation and confidence.

Participating in this seminar helped students to increase their subject skills and make them learn new things related to the plant Taxonomy , Anatomy and Physiology.

Students interacted with Resource persons and tried to get clarity on a few things and explored the plant world a little more .

This seminar experience increased student interest in Taxonomy and incorporated basic research skills in students in the area of Plant Taxonomy
